TRACKING WEBSITE VISITS

We may use "cookies" to improve our service to you. Cookies may help us recall a previous visit. The cookies we use do not collect personally identifiable information, and we do not use them to determine your identity.

Cookies are small files stored in your computer's hard drive by your web browser. When you access the site, our computer server will access these cookies so that it can recognize your computer, and make using the website easier for you. For example, cookies allow us to remember your username and password to save you having to retype it every time you visit the site.

There are "do not track" or similar browser choices available to internet users with respect to online web activity, but given the present lack of consensus of what constitutes an informed election, appropriate trigger, or breadth of scope of such choice, our website will continue to operate as described in this Privacy Statement, whether or not a "do not track" signal is received.
